Van Fleet Says Chances For Armistice Slimmer Than Ever

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—Gen. James A. Van Fleet said today there is less chance for an armistice in Korea than ever before.

The U.S. Eighth Army commander told a news conference the prospect for an armistice is in direct proportion to the amount of military pressure put on the Communists and that the Communists believe the United Nations forces will not attack to force a truce.

He said the Reds "still have the capability of striking at any point with considerable surprise."

But he added they have been "thinning out their front line strength quite a bit over a period of many weeks" to the point where it is "thinner than ever before."

He said their reasons for doing so were:

1. Floods.
2. U.N. close air support of infantry attacks.
3. Pressure on the ground by the Eighth Army.
4. Lack of supplies in the Communist forward areas.
5. Threat of a U.N. amphibious offensive.
6. A Communist decision that the U.N. forces will not attack and that there will not be an armistice.

Constable Killed Serving Warrant

GALLIPOLIS, O. (AP)—A shotgun blast killed a Lawrence County constable Tuesday when he climbed the rugged hills near Mercer, Ohio, to serve a warrant on a Gallia County farmer.

Sheriff George Ehman of Gallia County said the shot came from a second-floor window of the hilltop home of Olaf Murray, 43. The victim was Constable Joseph Rigney, 64, who planned to arrest Murray for resisting and molesting an officer at the Lawrence County Fair at Chesapeake last week.

Sheriff Ehman said Murray had been home shortly before the shooting, but had disappeared when his deputy arrived after the slaying. The sheriff told a reporter he expected Murray to "give himself up" today. He did not elaborate. Apparently no search for Murray was planned.

Rigney was accompanied to the Murray home by Special Deputy Edward Knight. Knight said as he and Rigney walked toward the home someone on a nearby hillside yelled, "look out, here they come." The shot was fired as the two walked up a path to the home.

Grow Convicted For Letting Reds Get Diary

General Reprimanded, Suspended 6 Months; Wanted Quick War

FT. MEADE, Md. (AP)—The American general who was reported by the Russians to have kept a diary advocating a hit-em-first war with the Soviet Union has been convicted of letting his diary fall into Communist hands.

Technically, Maj. Gen. Robert W. Grow was found guilty by a court martial yesterday of two offenses: jettisoning down military secrets in his personal diary and failing to safeguard classified data.

He was sentenced to a reprimand, which will count against future promotion, and suspension from command for six months. Maximum penalty would have been five years confinement, discharge, and forfeiture of pay and allowances.

Trial Was Secret

The hush-hush week-long trial before eight generals was so secret that even now the actual evidence against Grow, 57-year-old hero of two world wars, has not been made public. Newsmen were even forbidden to contact those involved.

What his diary really contained also is veiled in secrecy. But if propaganda Russia poured out last year to bolster war-mongering charges against the United States is correct, the diary said in part:

Advocated Quick War

"War 'as soon as possible! Now! . . . the time is ripe for a blow this year (1951) . . . we must learn that in this war it is fair to hit below the belt. We must understand that this war is total war and is fought with all weapons."

This is the story behind the court martial. Early last year Grow was a military attaché at the U. S. Embassy in Moscow. He went to Frankfurt, Germany, on official business.

While there, a Russian spy allegedly crept into his room during his absence, stole his diary, photographed it, and then returned it. The Soviet agent turned photographic copies of the diary over to Richard Squires, described as a British writer, who used them in a book entitled "On the Path to War."

Russia used the book as ammunition for a propaganda barrage, hammering home the Communist theme that the U. S. wanted war.

Hays Favors Direct Primaries, He Says

ST. CLAIRSVILLE—If re-elected, Congressman Wayne L. Hays will introduce a bill to nominate Presidents by direct primaries, he told St. Clairsville Rotarians yesterday.

The present system is too cumbersome and the wishes of the voters are ignored, Hays explained, basing his conclusions on what he saw and heard at the Democratic National Convention in Chicago.

He cited the fact that Kefauver got a big majority of Illinois votes yet only three delegates cast ballots for him. On a write-in campaign in Pennsylvania, the Tennessee got a half million votes yet only 21 of the delegates voted for him. "If we had just carried the states in which Kefauver won in primaries, Kefauver would have been nominated on the first ballot," Hays declared.

2 Bicycles Recovered After Being Stolen

Two bicycles parked on State St. were stolen Tuesday evening but recovered later. Mrs. Doris Harrigan of 308½ Ohio Ave. reported that her son had parked his bicycle in front of Dean's Jewelry Store at 6:45 p. m. and had gone to a movie. When he came out, the bicycle had disappeared.

Mrs. John Venis of 384 W. State St. reported that her son had parked his bicycle in front of Fish-er's News Agency around 6:45 p. m. and when he returned five minutes later the bicycle was gone.

Flying Saucers Aren't Threat, Air Force Says

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Air Force says it's still checking into flying saucer reports, but it's certain of one thing: the saucers—whatever they are—don't seem to be a menace to the United States.

Most of the sightings traced to date have turned out to be natural phenomena. A flurry of reports that scores of unidentified objects had been spotted by radar in the Washington area during the past 10 days led the Air Force to call a special news conference yesterday to tell what it knew—or thought—of the saucers.

The official Air Force conclusion, announced yesterday:

About one-fifth of the sighting reports are "from credible observers, of relatively incredible things—so we keep on being concerned about them."

Of the one-fifth for which there is no explanation, Maj. Gen. John A. Samford, intelligence director, said:

"No pattern has ever been found that reveals anything remotely like a purpose or consistency that can in any way be associated with any menace to the United States."

Samford is one of the Air Force's two top experts on saucers. The other is Maj. Gen. Roger Ramey, director of operations. Both attended the news conference to answer whatever questions newsmen tossed their way.

Samford and Ramey announced that since 1947 the Air Force has analyzed about 2,000 reports of sightings of strange objects in the sky.

The bulk of these, after cross-checking, have been reasonably well identified as the product of friendly aircraft, out-and-out hoaxes, or electrical or meteorological phenomena.

But every effort is being made to identify the mysterious one-fifth. One new step being planned is use

FBI Claims Proof Reds Seek Violent Overthrow Of U. S.

WASHINGTON (AP)—An FBI report claims documentary proof that the Communist party in the United States "teaches and advocates the overthrow and destruction of the U. S. government by force and violence."

The long-secret report was made public yesterday, with the permission of FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover, by the Senate internal security subcommittee headed by Sen. McCarran (D-Nev.).

It says William Z. Foster, chairman of the Communist party in this country, in July 1949 called the writings of Stalin, Lenin, Engels and Marx "Communist classics . . . accepted by all Communist parties, including our own. . . we American Communists apply them strategically and tactically in the need of specific American conditions."

The report then quotes from these "classics," asserting that "Lenin and Stalin both specifically reject 'peaceful means'—both insist on the necessity for violent revolution."

The FBI said Stalin, in his book called "Foundations of Leninism" published in 1939, wrote that Marx, a 19th century theorist and one of the founders of communism, believed there was an outside chance for a peaceful Communist revolution in the United States and Great Britain.

Stalin rejected this view, the FBI said, and wrote: "The proletarian revolution is impossible without the forcible destruction of the bourgeoisie (middle class) state machine, and the substitution for it of a new one."

Lenin, Stalin's predecessor as leader of Communist Russia, was quoted in the FBI report as saying that only "a swindler who juggles with quotations and references" would read peaceful intent into Marx's words.

These are some of the writings, the FBI said, that are circulated daily by U. S. Communists as doctrine "adapted strategically and tactically" to their program.

Eva Peron Funeral Again Postponed

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—The body of Eva Peron remained on public view today, her funeral postponed indefinitely until the crush of mourners slows down. There was no letup, however, in the thousands crowding into the capital.

With all other activity paralyzed by the mass grief for the beautiful young first lady who died Saturday night, President Juan D. Peron and his government sought to stretch out the homage and thus turn Argentina back to something like normal activity.

Peron announced his wife's body would lie in state until all had viewed it, not just for the two or three days originally planned. The government radio repeated over and over that the body would stay on view two or three months if necessary.

The funeral originally was planned for yesterday.

Bureau Without Power Held By Disbanded WSB

Congress Bans Right For Board To Deal In Big Labor Disputes

WASHINGTON (AP)—A shiny new Wage Stabilization Board free from the bitterness and controversy which surrounded its predecessor came into legal existence today.

As yet unmanned, the new board will look much like the old WSB which, with a membership of 18 representing the public interest, labor and industry, was ordered disbanded by Congress because of recommendations it made last March in its effort to settle the critical steel dispute.

The new WSB has no power to deal with nationwide labor disputes; all its members will need Senate confirmation; and all regulations it may issue to control wages must be cleared first by the economic stabilization agency headed by Roger L. Putnam.

Across One Hurdle

The new board has already crossed one hurdle: the AFL announced that it will reappoint its representation on the old board to the new board.

The CIO maintained official silence but there was no question it too would agree to participate.

Slated for chairmanship is Harvard law professor Archibald Cox, a young labor relations expert who now is co-chairman of the Construction Industry Stabilization Commission.

Missing from the new board will be Nathan P. Feinsinger, chairman of the outgoing board for the past 11 months.

Target of Wrath

Feinsinger, chief target of congressional wrath for the settlement proposals in the steel dispute, left town last night for Madison, Wis. He has been on leave from his labor law professorship at the University of Wisconsin.

The board Feinsinger headed disposed of 60,000 petitions for wage increases submitted to it by labor-management agreement, 90 per cent of them unanimously; it handled 22 deadlocked disputes, 12 certified for settlement proposals by the President, the other 10 submitted by the deadlocked parties voluntarily for a binding decision. The board was almost 100 per cent successful in handling all but one of these disputes. The exception was the granddaddy of them all—the steel dispute.

The board became a focal point of labor-management relations, as Feinsinger put it yesterday, "without the assistance of a no strike, no lockout pledge (by labor and management), without the patriotic stimulus of an all-out war effort, without subpoena power and with authority to make only recommendations. . . ."

That is a quotation from a farewell letter Feinsinger wrote the President. He made the letter public at a valedictory news conference.

Vets May Get Forms For Mustering Out Pay

The Soldiers and Sailors Relief Service office at the courthouse in Lisbon announced that it has been authorized to draw up applications for use by veterans in obtaining the mustering out pay recently approved by Congress.

Veterans may obtain blanks in the basement of the courthouse or from Wallace King who will be at the Salem City Hall Mondays and Fridays and at the Red Cross offices in East Palestine Tuesdays.

All persons who have been honorably discharged from the armed forces after June 27, 1950 and who served below the rank of major or lieutenant commander are eligible. Veterans who served at least 60 days of active duty outside the United States or in Alaska are entitled to $300; for 60 days of duty within the U.S., $200; and for less than 60 days, $100.

READY TO TRACK DOWN "SAUCERS"—United States Air Force is setting up more than 200 super-powerful cameras to probe the nation's skies for "flying saucers." Radar specialists Jim Copeland (top, left) and James Ritchey, of the air traffic control in Washington's National Airport, have recorded 12 "targets" or objects on their screens. Ritchey says that Air Force officials "can't explain these flying objects." Alerted jet crewmen (bottom), operating from Wilmington, Del., are ready to chase the "saucers" at any hour of day or night.

Pigs Squeal On Man Wanted For Ohio Theft

NEW YORK (AP)—Two little pigs squealed Tuesday night on a 43-year-old night watchman wanted by the FBI in connection with a furniture store robbery two years ago in Ohio.

The little pigs were tattooed on the chest of William Blatz, and they stood right out as identification marks for New York City detectives. Blatz was shirtless when he was arrested.

Police said an FBI folder claimed Blatz had fled prosecution after a robbery Nov. 2, 1950, of the C. and W. Furniture Store in New Philadelphia, O.

Acting on an anonymous telephone call, detectives sped to a construction site in the Bronx and there found Blatz sitting on a keg of nails.

Detectives said the pig tattoos plus one of a wreath inscribed "in memory of mother" provided the identification they needed.

Blatz said his real name is Frank Corea and he was born at Copake Falls, N. Y.

Police said he had served prison terms from coast-to-coast, including a 15-year sentence for a 1933 Cleveland robbery.

Corn On Cob That Won't Stick To Teeth Developed

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—Coming soon is corn on the cob that won't stick in your teeth.

The big tooth-picking troublemakers are glumes—the hard, leathery envelopes that partly encase each kernel of corn. In typical corn the glumes surround the lower half of each kernel. Nibbling off a row of kernels, you also get glumes that may stick in your teeth or cut sensitive gums.

The glumes do another disservice. They usually prevent your biting into the whole kernel, especially the bottom bit containing the embryo that is richest in vitamins and proteins.

Glumes are gremlins for corn canners, too. They constrict the base of the kernel, reducing kernel size and preventing deep cutting. Loose glumes have to be washed away.

The answer to the glume problem is glumeless corn being developed by Walton C. Galinat, graduate student working with Dr. Robert H. Andrew, assistant professor of agronomy at the University of Wisconsin.

Galinat is continuing work started at the Connecticut Agricultural Experiment Station.

He started with a corn which had no glumes at all, and crossed bred it with other forms of corn to get corn which had short glumes on the tassel and no glumes on the ear. The corn with these characteristics was able to reproduce itself.

Breeding glumeless corn is harder than it sounds, for there are glumes on the tassel of corn, too. The tassel glumes protect the immature corn pollen. Without glumes, the sun's heat burns out the young pollen and so prevents normal pollen development.

Galinat now has a corn with short glumes on the kernels, but large-enough glumes on the tassel. He is adding the glumeless characteristic to standard sweet corn hybrids to produce glumeless corn which is more productive and nutritious than the present long-glumed types.

Ohio Turnpike Bonds Floated

$319 Million Given State For Project

NEW YORK (AP) — The largest revenue bond flotation in the history of state and municipal financing was completed today in a brief ceremony in an office in the Wall Street district. Proceeds of the flotation will build a 241-mile superhighway across the State of Ohio.

Seated around a rectangular table were bankers, lawyers, officials of the State of Ohio, trust officers, engineers and underwriters. T. Henry Boyd, vice president of Blyth & Co., representing an underwriting syndicate of 410 members rose from his chair and handed a check for $319,882,972.22 to James W. Shocknessy, chairman of the Ohio Turnpike Commission. And it was over.

Photographers said "hold it a minutes," flashbulbs went off, the men at the table smiled. Then there was some handshaking, backslapping. Reporters scurried about for additional information.

In return for the check handed to the commission Tuesday, underwriters received 326,000 bond at par value of $26 million dollars. Deducted from the check was $7,824,000 commission for the underwriters. The 3 1/4 per cent obligations are dated June 1, 1952 and due to mature in 40 years.

The underwriting syndicate which distributed the revenue bonds across the country was the largest ever assembled. They bid $7.60 for the obligations and reoffered at 100. The bonds were an immediate sellout and "rights" to the bonds have traded ever since over-the-counter at more than a point premium.

The check for payment of the flotation was drawn on the National City Bank of New York, co-trustee, to be deposited in the Ohio National Bank of Columbus, the trustee.

One of the consulting engineers said advertisements for the first contract on the highway which will link the Pennsylvania Turnpike system with the State of Indiana, will appear between Sept. 15 and Oct. 1.

"Construction will begin before Nov. 1," according to E. J. Donnelly, partner of J. E. Greiner Co., engineers for the project.

Plans for the toll road call for completion within 34 months. But the 25 miles adjacent to the Pennsylvania Turnpike will be open by the end of 1953, Donnelly said.

Rain Keeps Korean Ground Action Light

SEOUL, Korea (AP) — One minor action was reported today as rain drenched the Korean battle front for the sixth straight day.

Mainly ground contact was limited to brief exchanges between patrols.

But on the Western Front, near the shell-ripped hill Old Baldy, U. N. troops counterattacked a second time against an advance position seized by 200 Reds early Tuesday.

A thunderous artillery barrage and Allied infantry charge early this morning failed to dislodge the Reds.

The U. S. Eighth Army said it had no late report on the second attack.

Except for night B26 and B29 bomb runs on front line targets, U. N. warplanes were mostly grounded.

Hot Spell In South Feared Crop Threat

By The Associated Press

The South's long spell of hot and humid weather continued today, increasing the threat of heavy damage to crops in many areas. Crops also were in danger from the drought in Massachusetts.

The hot, dry belt extended over most of Texas, the Gulf states and the South Atlantic states.

The summer-long hot weather and light rainfall has virtually destroyed some crops, particularly corn, in some sections of the southeast. Pastures have been burned brown, forcing many farmers to sell livestock.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture has declared Tennessee a disaster area. Other sections in the southeast, department officials said, may be designated as drought disaster areas.

In Boston, Gov. Paul A. Dever said he will ask the federal government to declare Massachusetts a disaster area because of the prolonged drought. He said the drought "has done irreparable damage to crops." Rainfall has measured less than one inch in July.

Tuesday was one of the hottest days of the summer season in many southeastern states, with temperatures climbing above 100 in cities in Alabama, South Carolina, Tennessee, Georgia and Arkansas. It hit 108 in Huntsville, Ala., and Anderson, S. C.; 107 at Columbia, S. C., and Tuscaloosa, Ala., and 106 in Birmingham and Muscogee, Ala., and Rome, Ga.

It was generally fair and pleasant weather in other parts of the country today.

Military Makes Sure It Gets 1st Steel

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Defense Department has assigned 30 special officers to stay at steel mills to see the military gets first crack at any new steel produced after the 54-day strike.

The move is part of a program directed by Munitions Board Chairman J. D. Small to meet intense competition expected from civilian manufacturers.

Small's order, announced Tuesday, has the backing of the Defense Department, National Production Authority and other mobilization agencies.

Meanwhile, price control officials said a price increase probably will be given to aluminum producers and fabricators. A decision is expected this week on the amount of the increase.

Truman Keeps Self Out Of Spotlight

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Reporters covering President Truman's trip home became increasingly convinced today that he has dropped out of the "hot copy" stage.

And the President, enjoying greater freedom and getting more relaxation than he has for months, seemed to prefer it that way.

From the time Truman introduced Adlai Stevenson to the Democratic National Convention as the party's new presidential nominee the Illinois governor has taken over the Democratic spotlight.

Truman, here to vote in the Democratic primary Aug. 5, is dividing his time between his home in nearby Independence and his working quarters in the Hotel Muehlebach penthouse here.

He is here to support J. E. (Buck) Taylor in his race for the Democratic senatorial nomination against W. Stuart Symington. But beyond his announcement of his support for Taylor, there has been little evidence of further open activity in his behalf.

Firms Scramble For Steel Outlay

Fear Allocation May Force More To Close

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP)—The scramble for steel is on despite government plans to parcel it out among users. Fears that allocation may force further plant shutdowns in the next few months were widespread. Lay-offs won't end with the strike.

Defense plants are to have top priority on steel. Then comes the scramble among the many defense-supporting industries.

The steel industry has a plan, approved by the government, to locate the metal but many users are bound to be pinched more or less seriously.

In the next six weeks all tinplate made is to be of the type canners use, so that the vegetable and fruit crops won't be lost.

Auto makers are seeking steel ingots they can have mills convert into sheets for them. Detroit fears that in an attempt to keep all industries going at least in part production, the government may funnel too much of the first steel production into the steel warehouses—the source of steel for most of the small users. If so, Detroit may have more layoffs from time to time.

Shipbuilders are without priority for steel for any but naval vessels. They fear that a steel shortage in the weeks ahead will keep them from meeting the scheduled increase in the oil tanker fleet on time for the peak of the winter fuel oil hauling season.

The oil industry says a shortage of steel pipe and casing means 9,000 wells planned for this year won't be drilled. The defense goal was for 50,000 new wells in 1952 to assure the nation of sufficient oil reserves in case of war.

Pressure to get more steel for the wells, and more pipe for natural gas distribution, will be strong in the next few months.

The chemical industry, in the midst of a 6½ billion dollar expansion program, says steel shortages are crippling it. Some construction will have to be stopped or lack of steel, industry spokesmen say.

Auto makers are seeking steel ingots they can have mills convert into sheets for them. Detroit fears that in an attempt to keep all industries going at least in part production, the government may funnel too much of the first steel production into the steel warehouses—the source of steel for most of the small users. If so, Detroit may have more layoffs from time to time.

Jaycee Ball Game Plans Completed

The Junior Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring a trip for Salem children to the Cleveland-Chicago baseball game Aug. 16 as part of the Youth Week program in August.

The event met with considerable success last year when 652 children from the Salem area attended a ballgame at Cleveland Municipal Stadium.

Children interested in attending the Saturday afternoon game must first pick up application blanks at Bloomberg's Clothing Store and have them signed by their parents. The signed applications must be returned to Bloomberg's no later than Aug. 10. The forms are now available.

Volunteer drivers are needed for the event and civic groups are being asked to furnish buses. Anyone wishing to drive may register at Bloomberg's. Both drivers and children will be admitted free to the game.

The group is expected to leave the Memorial Building around 9 a.m. Aug. 16. Further information can be obtained by calling M. A. Melitschka, phone 6423 or 3461.

The annual Youth Week dance is scheduled for Aug. 12, and there will be no charge for youngsters attending the dance. Youths to be selected as honorary city officials for Civic Day will be announced next week.

Wage Controls Put On Nine Businesses

WASHINGTON (AP)—Nine types of small business enterprises have been put under wage controls by Economic Stabilizer Roger L. Putnam.

They are: Trucking outfits; tool and die enterprises; automotive repair; logging operations and sawmills; building and construction industry; all Alaska concerns; new small businesses which expect to hire more than eight employees soon; concerns in which the pay of one or more employees is set up on an industry or area basis; and enterprises (other than banks) which get 25 per cent or more of their business income from dividends, interest, rents or royalties.

Congress exempted small businesses—defined as one employing eight or fewer persons—from wage and salary controls but allowed President Truman to reimpose if he thought it necessary.

Flying Saucer Swoops Over Car, Driver Says

ENID, Okla. (AP)—A photographic supply salesman told police he was almost swept from the highway last night by a huge "flying saucer" which swooped low at terrific speed.

Sid Eubanks, 50, Wichita, Kan., told his bizarre tale to Desk Sgt. Vern Benell, who said the man was still trembling when he walked into the police station.

Eubanks said the mystery object, appearing as a "yellow-green, then yellow-brown streak about 400 feet long," suddenly swooped low over U. S. Highway 81 and completely reversed directions, disappearing in a few seconds into the west.

He said the "tremendous pressure nearly threw my automobile off the road."

The object loomed suddenly out of the night between Bison and Waukomis, south of here, Eubanks said. He described it as a huge round ball when directly over him.

Brien McMahon Death Tightens Fight For Control Of Senate

WASHINGTON (AP)—Most politicians agreed today the unexpected death of Sen. Brien McMahon (D-Conn.) will make even tighter the already touch-and-go battle between Democrats and Republicans for control of the Senate this fall.

McMahon's death Monday reduced the wobbly Senate Democratic majority to three and boosted to 35 the number of seats at stake in the November elections. As matters now stand, there are 46 Republican senators, 49 Democrats and one vacancy in the 96 Senate seats.

Of the 35 seats to be filled this fall, 15 are now held by Democrats and 20 by Republicans. (The majority of the present senators are still serving out their six-year terms and are not up for re-election.)

Republicans to regain Senate control in 1953 must elect at least 23 senators this fall to gain a bare majority of 49. They probably need 25 or 26 to have effective control, because some Republican senators often vote with Democrats.

Democrats need only 14 winners in Senate contests to retain a bare majority. Many of the Senate contests are in Southern or border states where Democrats normally win.

Republican enthusiasts for Dwight D. Eisenhower, GOP presidential nominee, are counting on his vote-getting ability at the head of the ticket to produce majorities in both the House and Senate.

Boosters for Democratic nominee Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois expect the same of him.

Because both vice presidential nominees are senators, Republican Richard Nixon of California and Democrat John Sparkman of Alabama, the winning ticket automatically will lose a Senate seat temporarily.

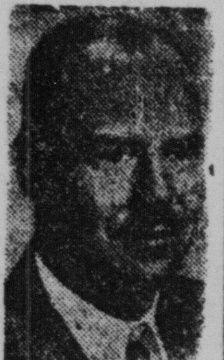

However, governors of their states are of the same party as the nominees, and are expected to appoint successors from the same party, keeping the balance unchanged.

Gout Sufferers Must Refrain From Purines

The courage which some people show puts the rest of us to shame. A correspondent writes that he has spent 30 years in the Marine Corps and is now home from Korea with a condition diagnosed as gout.

Dr. Jordan

He writes: "I am sure you can understand my disappointment to find I have the disease. I would like to continue on the active list."

In response to this writer's request, this column is devoted to a discussion of gout. Gout attacks men much more often than women. It seems to run to some degree in certain families, though this is not always true. While it seems unlikely that such activity has anything to do with gout in the Marine writer, over-indulgence in food is likely to bring on an attack.

In general, those who are heavy meat eaters and drink a good deal of heavy wine are especially liable to this strange disease.

There are many peculiar things about gout. Acute attacks of the disease tend to occur most often in the spring and fall. The pain of the acute form of gout is terrific.

In its typical form, it starts suddenly in the middle of the night with severe pain at the base of one of the big toes. The pain usually wakes the victim from a sound sleep. Some of those who have had an acute attack describe the sensation as that of a red-hot poker prying the toe joint apart.

There is a chronic form of the disease, often called gouty arthritis. In this stage, crystal-like substances called urates, made of the products of purines, which are present in some foods, are deposited in or near the joints. Sometimes these deposits reach the size of hen's eggs.

If given at the beginning of an attack, cortisone or ACTH may ward off the development of the pain and the swelling. These substances frequently seem to delay the attack rather than stop it altogether.

Acute gout, however, can be greatly improved by proper supervision, improved diet, and attention to living conditions.

Those who have the disease are generally required to refrain from most alcoholic liquors and from foods which contain a high proportion of purines, such as sweetbreads, liver, kidneys, squab and calves' tongue.

Indeed, there are other foods such as pork, beef, veal, sausage, gravy and several kinds of fish which may also be taboo for a victim of gout because of the relatively high amounts of purine that they contain.

There is a question, however, whether our Marine friend can safely resume the active duty which he likes so much with complete lack of danger from other attacks of the disease.

1% Produce Price Rise Reported For Month

WASHINGTON (AP)—Prices received by farmers between June 15 and July 15 rose one per cent, mainly because of increases they got for hogs, milk, eggs and commercial crops.

The Agriculture Department, announcing this rise, said that during the same period prices dropped for beef cattle, potatoes, wheat, cotton, calves and several other products.

The department's price index went up three points to 295, well below the record 313 of February 1951. The index of prices paid by farmers remained at 286.

20 Were Killed

It is somehow reassuring to know Mohammed Mossadegh has fainted himself back into the premiership of Iran.

He seems to represent the most stable instability of which his country is capable at this time. Until his following has burned itself out with nationalist passion, there can be no Communists in the last few days.

Ahemd Ghavan's premiership, which had been undertaken at the request of Shah Mohammed Beza Pahlavi, set off an explosion of violence in which 20 persons were killed. Since this was only a sample of what Mossadegh's Nationalists and Stalin's Communists were capable of doing to destroy Iran with violence, the best idea was to put Mossadegh back into office and make him responsible for keeping order.

These events on the other side of the world may seem remote. Geographically, they are remote. Economically, they are as intimate as the nearest gas station. Iran contains the world's largest refinery, now closed because Iranian Nationalists refused to let Great Britain retain ownership. The United States is making up the deficit in the world's oil supply caused by the antics of a weird coalition of Iranian patriots and Communists intent on doing away with Iranian patriots.

All Modern Improvements

Now that most of us have reached our opinions on what is, to Americans, the biggest show on earth, two things about political conventions must be changed before 1956.

They must adjourn before our bedtime. What used to be an endurance contest for a few thousand will become an endurance contest for millions, unless this improvement can be made for those living east of Chicago.

The other improvement is even more obvious. Polls of state delegations will have to be handled by machinery. Each delegate will file past a box with two buttons on it—Yes and No—and push one. This will be a double triumph, because if it did not take so much time to poll delegations there would be no incentive for doing it in most situations.

The delegates regard time as of the essence in carrying on the politicking which goes on in conventions. Televiseurs, having been through the mill, regard time as of the essence in carrying on the tasks which will await them after they have stayed up until 2:30. The delegates will have to yield. The eyes have it.

Testimony

While it is now realized that the weather this summer will be memorable, scarcely any thought is being given to high points of testimony which will prove to posterity that it was a humdinger.

Why there were days on end when it was so warm and sticky that flies wouldn't move; they sat perfectly still and perspired like everybody else.

Birds hatching out their second broods got off their nest and fanned the eggs with their wings, to keep them from overheating.

Political partisans, who normally would have had a wild debate, became so bushed with the humidity that they acquired humility to match it and were unable to do more than stare at one another with glassy eyes by the time the Democrats had their convention the week of July 20.

The reports never were authenticated, but people who were in a position to know swore that milk was pasteurized in cows which were left out in treeless pastures.

That's how tough it was. It's a wonder anyone lived through it. Maybe no one did. Maybe that was it—the penalty for all those mis-spent lives.

The First Leaf

It is still too soon to comprehend the change of summer to fall. But the summer tans are all in place. The men have been separated from the boys in big-league baseball. The political conventions are over. And in Delafield, Wis., the behemoths have begun to smack one another in preparation for the All-Star football game with the professional champs.

This football opener is now more reliable than the first fallen leaf as a harbinger of frosted pumpkins, wood smoke in the air and wedges of winged geese in the light of the moon.

Leaves can fall any time. A pumpkin could be frosted prematurely. And geese might become confused. But there is no possibility of confusion among football players. Their timing is infallible.

They do not smack one another until the public is ready to watch the performance, a state of mind which creeps slowly over potential football fans late in August and holds them in its grip until New Year's Day, when it is time to start dreaming of spring.

Folk's wouldn't mind so much paying for a doctor's advice if they had sense enough to take it.

Delegate Poll

By DAVID LAWRENCE

It Proves An Effective Stalling Method

Maybe the television audience didn't realize it, because such things were not visible, but the polling of delegations which caused so much delay at the Democratic convention was in large part due to deliberate efforts to stall the proceedings.

Some comments have been heard that the challenges made to the announcement of how a particular delegation voted were due to a desire on the part of individual delegates to have their friends back home see them or hear their names read. That's too superficial an explanation. Polling of delegations has become a very effective device for certain purposes in national conventions long before television was invented.

The original and basic purpose of polling is related to factional warfare inside state delegations. If, in a given state, the regular organization is supporting a certain presidential candidate, the opposite faction will inevitably line up behind another candidate. The stakes are high—control of the organization in that state. The winning candidate usually recognizes the faction that has been for him and sometimes the "regulars" are ousted simply because they are deprived of influence, especially if the candidate wins the presidency.

ONE IMPORTANT step in the struggle inside a state is to put the opposing delegates on the spot. If the ballot of a state is announced in the form of a total, the people back home do not know who voted for an opposing candidate—if, indeed, any did. In some states where there are, for example, 24 votes and the "unit rule" is part of the state's regulations, if 11 vote for one candidate and 13 vote for the other, the majority can cast the ballot of the entire 24 for their own candidate. Under such circumstances, it is vital for the minority to get themselves on record and show the people back home just who was voting for whom.

This sort of tactics has always been carried on and the correspondents from newspapers in various local areas usually send back to their newspapers the names of those who voted one way or another. Nowadays radio and television speeds up the process, and often the citizens listening in or watching send telegrams the same day to delegates they expected to support their own choice or complementing them on their stand.

But, at the Democratic National Convention, the polling occurred not merely for these reasons but for others less observable. Thus, during the proceedings on Thursday when the nominating speeches were dragging on and the southerners demanded a showdown on whether Virginia, South Carolina and Louisiana were entitled to vote, the supporters of the Kefauver and Harriman groups were anxious to prolong those proceedings so there would be no balloting on nominations that night. In fact, at one time they offered a motion to adjourn and this was immediately subjected to a roll-call vote during which so many delegations asked to be polled that the delays made it impracticable to have the first ballot Thursday night. This was exactly when the anti-Stevenson forces wanted, whereas the supporters of Stevenson were eager to nominate late Thursday.

SOMEWHAT THE SAME tactics developed Friday night during the roll call on which Stevenson was nominated except that in this instance the stalling was done by some of the Stevenson supporters. It will be recalled that on the third ballot the nomination of Stevenson seemed certain but that the votes of one state might be needed to put it over the majority line.

The Stevenson supporters didn't want to be obligated to Tennessee, since that might mean pressure to name Senator Kefauver for vice president. Indeed, the senator had gone early to the rostrum to release his delegates to Senator Douglas of Illinois, who in turn was to release them to Stevenson but during the course of his remarks was going to make a speech favoring the nomination of Senator Kefauver for the vice presidency.

It was pointed out to Kefauver enthusiasts on the rostrum by Speaker Rayburn, the chairman, that the roll call couldn't be interrupted for any such statement and that to make a nominating speech for vice president at such a time would be out of order.

BUT THERE WAS Senator Kefauver sitting on the stage waiting his turn. Then the stalling started and delegation after delegation was polled until, by skillful work on the floor, enough votes were assured for Stevenson to win without Tennessee or to bring him so close to the line that any state could switch its vote and produce the necessary majority.

While the polling was delaying matters, emissaries from the Stevenson group were busy locating Senator Russell to bring him to the platform, too, and by that time the movement to name Kefauver was squelched, and, as it happened, Senator Kefauver released his delegates to Stevenson anyway.

Since it takes only one delegate to bring about the polling of a state, the device is very useful to those who for reasons of their own want to delay the proceedings. That's something the television audience couldn't know because those who steered it that way weren't telling anybody at the time.

Record Cost of Living

By RICHARD SPONG

The rise estimated in food costs during June is expected to push the next consumers' price index of the Bureau of Labor Statistics—due in a little more than a fortnight—to a record high. The National Industrial Conference Board figure for consumers' prices for May was set at an all-time high.

The same idea is expressed in another way by N.I.C.B. With January 1939 accepted as a norm, the purchasing power of the dollar in May was at an all-time low—55.4 cents. This represents a decrease of 2.8 per cent since May 1951, when the purchasing power of the dollar was represented at 57 cents.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics has pointed out that no single item in its consumers' price index is a constant factor. "New items, such as television, are introduced in the market and claim their share of the consumers' dollar. In addition, the relationships of prices of competing goods cause consumers to substitute one item for another; if the price of rib roast, for example, advances, the consumer often substitutes a cheaper cut of meat such as frankfurters or possibly a cheese or egg dish."

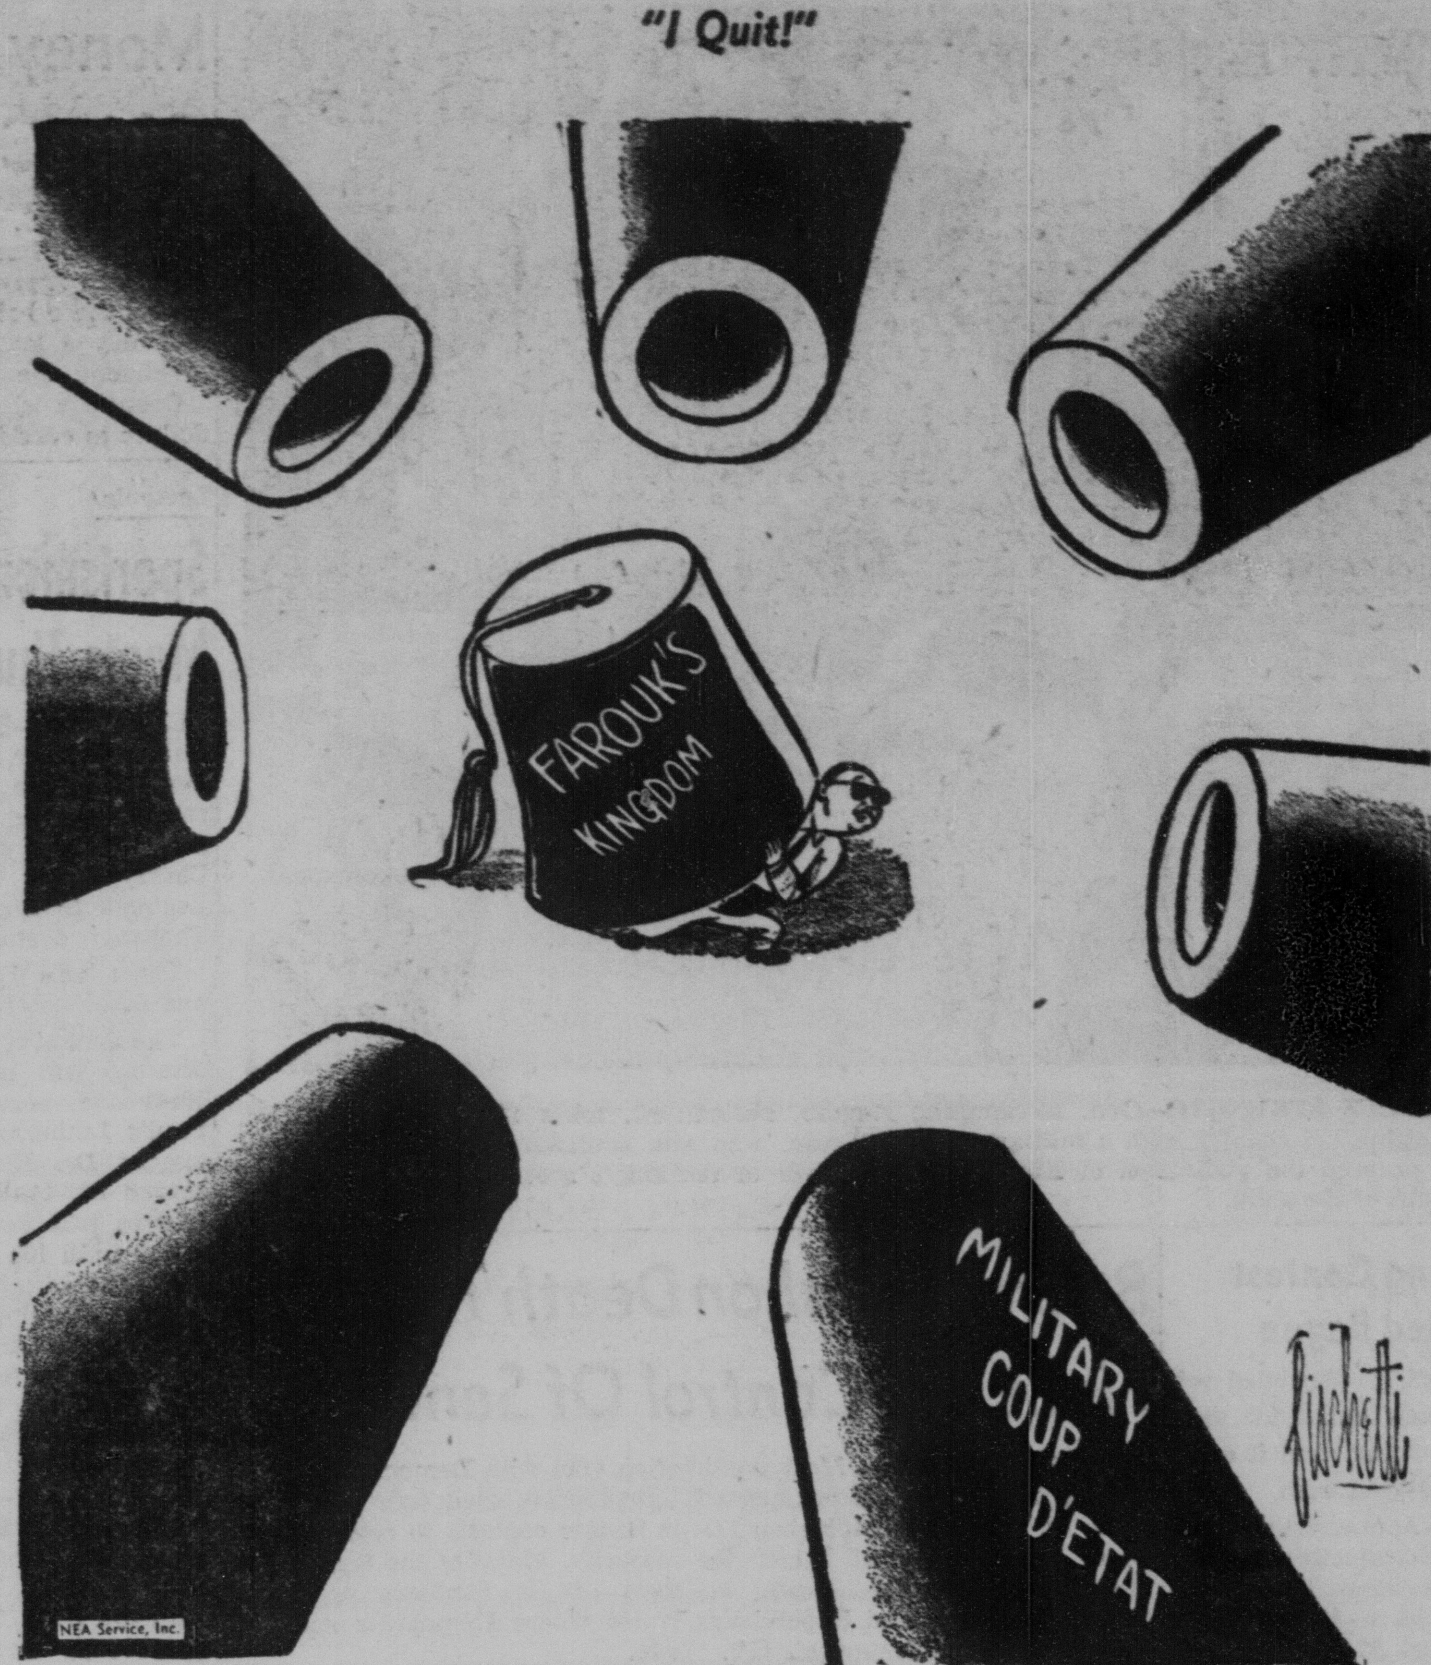

However, in the 1935-39 base for the Bureau's index, food costs were weighted at 33.9 per cent of total family outlay. And over the years consumers demonstrably have devoted from one-third to slightly more than one-third of all family expenditures to food.

The general consumers' price index previously reached an all-time high (189.1) in December and January. Food prices dropped sharply in late January and early February. But food prices are on the rise again, and so are rents, which account for anywhere from 11 to 18 per cent of family outlay. On

Reviewing The Conventions

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

I witnessed the Republican convention from the Conrad Hilton Hotel and the press box in the amphitheater in Chicago. I witnessed the Democratic convention on television at my farm in the Berkshires, supplemented by long distance telephone.

I heard the speeches at the Democratic convention better than I could those at the Republican convention. I was not constantly being disturbed by side conversations, by colleagues walking in and out, by the clatter of typewriters and teletypewriters, by the rush of photographers and the constant running back and forth on the rostrum. I am all for Mrs. India Edwards who bawled out the Democrats for being rude; but they were just as rude afterwards as they and the Republicans were before.

The Republicans did all their fighting on the floor which did them damage on television. The Democrats tried to avoid that but failed.

IF ALL SUCH conventions are to be on television in the future, the speeches will have to be shorter, more concise, less repetitive. Nobody can watch three or four hours when what is heard is really without meaning.

Also, television shows not only the speakers but the audience. It does not do a political party any good with the people if millions of Americans look at a picture of chosen delegates, sent to a convention to do serious business, who appear to be acting like kids raising hell at a country fair. Speaker Sam Rayburn properly told the Democrats in the first few minutes of his speech how to behave like gentlemen. Somebody should have told the Republicans as much.

The existing convention device became obsolete once the parties permitted television to show the country what a convention actually is. A new type of conclave will have to be worked out, a swiftly-moving, deliberative body, dealing with its proper business without hoop-la and ballyhoo.

Another matter that will have to be considered is time. These conventions run too late into the night for the television audiences. The most important speeches come into Eastern Daylight time between 10 and 12 p.m. Some of the most interesting business happened after midnight, E.D.T. That is too late for some of the states which produce large volumes of votes.

THUS FAR, at the Democratic convention, Governor Dever's important keynote speech lasted about one hour and twenty minutes. I do not believe that any audience can be held that long for a speech on television. I had to force myself to stay with that speech which is of major significance because it is the outline of the campaign. Everybody followed the line laid down by the Governor except Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt's speech which was propaganda for the United Nations.

If these political parties want to take the public into their confidence, they ought to cut the speeches and produce more debate. The public likes debate and is bored by mediocre speeches. But hysteria such as Senator Paul Douglas permitted himself is not debate. Such discussions as appear on "Meet the Press" are more interesting than much that happens on the convention floor. For instance, I saw, on television a few newspaper reporters take on Governor Herman Talmadge of Georgia. That was one of the most interesting shows during the convention, because Talmadge was urbane, shrewd, sure of his ideas, competent to state his position, never wanting for idea or word. Some of my colleagues of the press, in contrast to him, were inarticulate. Yet, the debate was better than the speeches on the convention floor that followed.

The Day Peace Came

By TRUMAN TWILL

On the day peace quit being a hope and became a reality, everything started as usual.

The rosy-fingered dawn shook off the shades of night as the earth spun in its orbit. All living things, including men, stirred to the timeless coming of light and took up their struggle to remain alive one more day.

But suddenly something without precedent happened.

At innumerable points all over the earth, strange craft unlike anything ever seen by earthlings before came buzzing out of space and landed briefly on the earth's surface.

All human attempts to murder the strange occupants of these space ships were futile. As reports of the failures were received from scattered points and pieced together by the Associated Press, it became sickeningly obvious that these creatures, whatever they were, were immune to man-made violence.

Descriptions of the creatures revealed, moreover, that either they were of many different origins or of many different types, with perhaps a common origin. They were highly individualistic. Only one detail appeared in all the scattered reports. What appeared to be their heads were between their extremities, which resembled identical sets of hands. The creatures could move about on either of these two sets; they could not be said to have their feet on the ground, like earthlings, because they might have another set in the air at the same time. Or they could have both sets on the ground, thereby making them twice as practical as men.

The creatures were vari-colored, about the size of basketball players, and extremely willowy. During the brief interval they spent on the earth, they removed from their space ships and erected tablets of something which was similar to steel in appearance but much lighter and infinitely tougher. All these tablets bore the same inscription—at least all of them which have been located and photographed. Whatever the inscription said, the same thing was inscribed on the earth itself by the follow-the-dots arrangement of all the tablets over all the earth's surface. This was pointed out months later in a paper by Dr. Ignatz Frootkake before the Institute of Advanced Study at Princeton, N.J.

All the best minds immediately went to work on the inscriptions, getting nowhere. But the very futurity of their efforts, combined with the invulnerability of the space-ship creatures to man-made destruction, had a tremendous impact. The creatures of the earth, intent on remaining alive one more day, quit killing one another lest they weaken their common front in the face of common danger. No longer were their fears confined to what might happen to them at the hands of their own kind. They now had to be afraid of what might happen to them at the "hands" of unearthly creatures who could put their "feet" on the ground from either end and be twice as practical if they felt like it.

It is estimated that the visitations lasted 15 minutes—but they were 15 momentous minutes. When it was over, peace on earth had become a reality. Earthlings quit wishing they had it and got it by common consent. The whole thing was that simple and that fantastic, on the day that flying saucers became realities and lent wings to men's imagination.

BIBLE QUOTATION

Once Over

By H. I. PHILLIPS

Ike, Master Painter?

Ike Eisenhower, it develops, can paint. He has displayed samples of his work on his vacation. We understand he wants his masterpiece to be a futuristic picture called "Nude Deal Descending a Staircase." Other probable exhibitions are:

1.—"1952 Still Life." (A composition showing a Missouri mule, a broom, a freshly laundered tropical beach shirt, two red herrings and an ashecan.)

2.—"The Pianist's Last Stand." (Done something after the General Custer painting, with the piano player ambushed.)

3.—"Through the Corruption with Pen-and-Feather Duster." (An impressionistic painting of recent Washington life.)

We have just interviewed General Eisenhower. "How long have you been painting?" we asked. "Ever since MacArthur gave me the big brush," was the reply. The interview continued:

Q.—Did you always know you could paint?
A.—No, but as a general serving under the Democrats I realized I might be asked to do anything.

Q.—Do you sketch out your ideas roughly before painting?

A.—No, I paint roughly and then sketch in something to clear up what I am driving at.

Q.—Do you work in oil?

A.—That sounds like a trick question from a Democrat.

Q.—CAN DICK NIXON do anything on canvas?

A.—He took a bare pencil sketch showing nothing but an old typewriter, some dental work and a pumpkin and worked it into the celebrated painting, "Alger at the Bridgework," didn't he?

Q.—Do you like still life subjects?

A.—Things have been so hectic with me I haven't even seen any signs of still life lately.

Q.—Let's discuss subject matters. Do you like to do animal studies?

A.—I have just finished "Abilene Hunter in the Howdah," and expect for the next three months to concentrate on "Bull Elephant on a Rampage."

Q.—Do you do portraits?

A.—Between now and election day I figure I shall have to.

Q.—It would be interesting to obtain your views on great art. Do you like "The Herring Net," by Winslow Homer?

A.—I prefer it to "The Herring Net" by Truman.

Q.—What is your opinion of Vermeer's "Girl with a Flute" and the Degas painting "After the Bath"?

A.—I prefer G. Opee's "Pachyderm with a Bugle" and Newbold Morris' "After the White-wash."

Q.—What about Da Vinci's "Mona Lisa"?

A.—Ah, the wizardry of that enigmatic expression! Precisely the mood of the uncommitted delegate.

Q.—What is your opinion of the work of Corot, Rubens and Titian?

A.—Fine, but personally I can never forget the work of Lodge, Duff and Dewey.

Q.—WHAT IS YOUR opinion of Grandma Moses?

A.—My Grandma Moses policy is as yet undetermined. You can't expect me to be fully informed on everything at this time.

Q.—Have you any intention of painting your opponent, the newly chosen Democratic candidate for President?

A.—(Pointing to a large painting with nothing in it but a pool table and an eight-ball) This is my unfinished symbolic portrait. I expect to put my opponent behind it.

"Won't you be seated?" at any party is apt to bring the answer "Yes, if my credentials are not in dispute." . . . A horse named "Me" won a race the other day and Shudda Haddim lost a bet on it through excusable confusion. . . . "What do you know?" he asked his favorite tout. "Me," was the reply. . . . "Certainly, you," replied Shudda Haddim. "Tell me, what's good in this race?" . . . "Me," grunted the tout again. . . . "Who else would I be asking?" persisted Shudda Haddim. . . . "I'm tellin' you, Me," answered the tipster. . . . (This went on until too late to bet.) . . .

New version of an old saying, "The mountain labored and brought forth a party platform." . . . A caustic critic of convention speeches, still bitterly critical, declares, "If I had a 7-year-old kid who couldn't say in five minutes what those convention orators took an hour and a half to say, I'd put the kid in a school for backward children." . . . The Office Tory says the Democrats are promising the two-family garage and a government check in every pot. . . .

Thomas P. Nolan, a grandson of S. Z. Poli, once the vaudeville king of New England, is operating one of the classiest restaurants in Connecticut in Woodmont, near the Poli seaside mansion. . . . Those "flying saucers" may have been part of planned demonstrations at the Chicago convention.

Beverly Springer Of Lisbon Wed To Raymond Fatig Jr.

Miss Beverly Grace Springer used an original pattern to fashion the beautiful wedding gown which she wore when she became the bride of Raymond Fatig Jr. at 2:30 p.m. Saturday in the First Christian Church in Kent.

Rev. Leyton Carter officiated at the double-ring ceremony. His wife sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer." The church was decorated with gladioli.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Springer of the Salineville Rd., Lisbon. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Fatig Sr. of Newark. Mr. Springer gave his daughter in marriage.

The bride's white gown and train were of skinner satin. The high neckline and Elizabethan collar were emphasized by covered buttons extending down the front to the waist. Her long sleeves came to a point at the wrists.

She wore a white satin cap and short veil, and carried a white bouquet of gardenias and delphiniums.

Attendants' Attire

Dorothy Steinbaugh of Lisbon, maid of honor, wore blue net over taffeta and carried a purple and yellow bouquet of larkspur and snapdragons. The bridesmaids, Ruth Roberts of New Kensington, Pa., and Sharon Wilson of Newark, O., wore dotted swiss over taffeta with dotted swiss jackets. They carried yellow bouquets.

John R. Pfund of Warren was best man. Karl Kessler of Canton and Richard Egli of New Kensington, Pa., were ushers.

Mrs. Springer wore a gray and pink nylon dress with blue accessories and Mrs. Fatig Sr. wore a blue nylon dress with white accessories. Their shoulder corsages were of red roses.

Approximately 100 persons attended the reception in the Friendship Room of the church. Gifts were received from guests who attended from Newark, Toronto, Kent, Lisbon, Warren, Akron, Canton, Cleveland, Youngstown, Pittsburgh, Pa., New Kensington, Pa., and New Castle, Pa.

Custom of open church will be observed for the wedding, and invitations have been issued to the reception in the garden at the Byers home.

Kitchen utensils were presented the bride-to-be at the party. Garden flowers and silver candelabra decorated the table as Mrs. Cunningham served the punch.

Card games were a diversion of the evening.

Dorothy Ann Pyatt Wed To L. O. Boehm

Rev. Blanke, Lutheran minister at Fort Wayne, Ind., performed the single ring ceremony July 21 at 7:30 p.m. The bride was married in a white dress with white accessories. Vivian Farmer was maid of honor. Pvt. Arthur Boehm, brother of the groom, was best man.

The bride attended Salem High School and was formerly employed by the G. C. Murphy Co. of Salem. The groom is a graduate of Goshen High School.

THE FIRST FUR COATS of fall show a definite relationship to the fluidity of line found in a cloth coat. The fur is, in fact, cut and handled much like cloth, the result being fur fashions of greater elegance and higher fashion than we've seen in the past.

Lines range from the narrow and stem-like to the very full. There's a new narrowness at the top of the coat that does away with any feeling of heaviness or bulkiness. This narrow look is frequently achieved through dropped shoulder lines.

The wandering waistline appears in both high and low effects. The spencer cut is used at times for a coat bodice with the low midline looking best in jackets.

The tulip line, shown in cloth coats, has also been adapted to fur and is done with slim top and low flare.

Sleeves are frequently dramatic. Some of them taper, others are full or pleated, still others are push-up but can be worn down to the wrist as well.

Leopard coat by Leo Ritter (left) has the narrow top, coupled with small shawl collar. Sleeves are fairly full and widely cuffed.

Slim, fitted coat in black broadtail (right) by the same designer has weskit cut with deep V, formed from a double collar. To create skirt fullness, double inverted pleats are used front and back. Sleeves have flaring, gauntlet cuffs.

The group voted to support the Kiwanis Club-sponsored swimming pool fund.

Mrs. Walter Sanlo Honored At Shower

Twenty-five friends of Mrs. Walter Sanlo gathered at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Frank Simmons of S. Lincoln Ave. recently to honor her with a stork shower.

Mrs. Sanlo's birthday was also celebrated at that time, and she received gifts.

Games were played and the evening was spent informally. Special prize went to Mrs. William Alexander. Miss Mildred Jensen and Miss Twila Myers were in charge of games.

Joyce Jensen, niece of Mrs. Sanlo, presented the gifts in a doll buggy which was decorated in pink and blue. The color scheme on the luncheon table was pink and blue. Tiny storks carrying babies were favors.

The hostess was assisted in serving by Mrs. Orlan Wank.

LOSES 105 LBS. Wears Size 12 Again

Mrs. Margaret Banks, 3830 Strathaven Rd., Shaker Heights, Ohio writes: "When I started taking Renna I weighed exactly 220 lbs. Today I weigh 115 lbs. and my doctors check up is 100% in perfect health. I am 39 years old and now again wear a size 12 dress. I can honestly say I have never felt better. I am no longer troubled with that gas bloated feeling. I look much younger and feel full of pep. Words cannot express how thankful I am to Renna."

It's amazing how quickly you can lose unsightly fat at home. Obtain liquid Renna at your druggist, mix with grapefruit juice as directed and take two tablespoons twice a day. That's all there is to it. If you do not lose weight with the very first bottle just return it for your money back. You need never know a hungry moment while reducing with Renna.

Roving Reports By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK —Are you one of the millions of Americans who feel themselves in a rut?

Has life given you everything you yearned for: A wife, children, a job, a home in the suburbs, even a place to park your motor car—and still you feel dissatisfied?

Then you are suffering from civilization's most widespread disease—to get what you want. There is only one cure, and that is to want something you don't have, and go after it.

You have made a habit of following a routine. What you need now is to make change a habit, and turn your dull life topsy-turvy in a satisfying way.

To do this you don't have to run off with your stenographer, disinherit your children, bait your boss, set fire to your car or become a cop fighter. You can break the pattern of sameness in your life in small ways as well as big ways.

Here are a few suggestions on how to find fresh windows to adventure:

1. If you invariably start the day with a glass of orange juice, have a piece of watermelon for a change.

2. Comb your hair differently (if you have any). Everyone will remark, "what's happened to you—you look younger."

3. If you have been giving your wife a goodbye peck on the cheek each morning, kiss her full on the mouth. If she doesn't die of surprise, there will be a new sparkle in her eyes when you come home.

4. Tell your boy, "Gee, son, kids have it a lot tougher today than they did when I was your age." This will give him a new respect for your judgment. He may even go out and cut the lawn.

5. If you have been riding on the left side of the bus every day, switch over to the right side. That will give you some fresh bus cards to read and ponder over.

6. Lunch at a new restaurant each noon. A man's stomach gets as weary of a rut as a man's mind. And you will get to admire more pretty waitresses.

7. Whenever you feel overborne at your melancholy lot, go visit the nearest church, cemetery, or slum section. Each will give you a reason to quit your inner whining.

8. At least once a week do something completely new. Walk a different way, swim in a different pool, read a different kind of book, or visit a different department store.

9. Take up a hobby you positively cannot afford. Many men simply can't afford not to be interested in trying to get something they cannot possibly ever buy. For them it is better to save up for a yacht than to buy a rowboat. Nothing destroys most people like achievement.

10. Find the person who dislikes you most, and, no matter how ignorant and worthless he is, force him against his will to get to like you. This can be more fun than anything, and, of course, after he does get to like you, then you can tell him to go to hades if you want to. But you probably won't.

If a man does these things he may not necessarily escape his rut, but he'll be enjoying himself so much he will no longer remember he is even in it.

Title Bout Depends On Three Points

NEW YORK (AP)—Plans for a million dollar September title match between Heavyweight Champion Jersey Joe Walcott and Rocky Marciano, the Brockton, Mass., crusher, hinge on three important points:

1. Percentages. Felix Boechicchio, Walcott's manager, insists on 45 per cent. Marty Weill, Marciano's manager, wants "more than 15 per cent." Promoter Jim Norris says he can allot only 60 per cent.

2. Date. Weill and Norris prefer Tuesday, Sept. 23. Boechicchio likes Sept. 15 or Sept. 16.

3. Site. Weill and Norris want New York's Yankee Stadium. Boechicchio wants a place "where I can manage my fighter," possibly Jersey City or Philadelphia.

The percentage angle may give Norris' International Boxing Club quite a headache. If Marty Weill, whose step father Al Weill is I.B.C. matchmaker, insists on too much more than 15 per cent, they will have quite a hassle.

The date is really no major hurdle. Felix wants to go in mid-September because of possible conflict with the blazing baseball pennant races and world series ballyhoo. Weill wants to give Marciano a little vacation before he starts back to training camp. Norris thinks the late September date the best for the game.

The site is a problem that will take a bit of doing. Boechicchio has no manager's license in New York state. In 1949, Boechicchio's application for a manager's license, complete with pardons from two Pennsylvania governors—John Fisher and James Duff—for crimes committed in Pennsylvania, was held for three months and returned by the New York State Athletic Commission, then headed by Eddie Egan.

"I can't manage my fighter in New York," said Boechicchio. "And I can't put my fighter where I can't manage him. I will not apply for a license if I'm going to be turned down again."

TUESDAY'S STARS
Batting — Mickey Mantle, Yankees—Hit a grand slam homer with two out and bases full in the ninth to give the Yankees 10-7 victory over the Chicago White Sox.

Pitching — Murry Dickson, Pirates—Held Brooklyn to eight hits as he pitched Pittsburgh to first 1952 victory 7-1, over the Dodgers who had beaten the Bucs 13 straight times.

Easter Clouts 380-Foot Homer

Feller Goes Tonight Against Boston Nine

CLEVELAND (AP)—Bob Feller (7-10) gets the call tonight to keep the fire burning under the American League's hottest July club—the Cleveland Indians.

By beating the Boston Red Sox 4-1 Tuesday night in the opener of a three-game series, the Tribe brought its record for the month to 18-11, which compares with 18-13 by the Philadelphia Athletics and 18-14 by the New York Yankees.

Feller's opponent tonight is 19-year-old rookie Dick Brodowski (4-3).

Early Wynn pitched his fourth complete game victory of the month Tuesday night and posted a new high of 12 strikeouts by a Tribe pitcher this season. It was the 12th victory against eight losses for Early.

The Red Sox scored the first run in the fourth on singles by George Kell and Billy Goodman, Hoot Evers' sacrifice and a ground out. In each of the last two innings Wynn fanned two batters while a runner was stranded on third.

Luke Easter clubbed a 380-foot homer to right center in the fifth to tie the score.

The winning runs came in the sixth on a bases loaded single by Dale Mitchell. Harry Simpson's single, an error and two intentional walks set the stage for Mitchell's two-run blow.

Buckman Hurls One-Hit Game; Lions Lead

Bill Buckman, who has twirled two no-hit games, came through with a one-hit decision last night as Heddelestons downed Butler Grange, 8-0, knocking the latter from the top spot in the Class B League and allowing the Lions to step into the lead.

Buckman's pitching was superb and he would have had this third no-hitter of the year but neither the first baseman or second baseman covered the initial sack on a drag bunt and it went for a base rap.

Meanwhile, as Buckman won the five-inning affair and knocked the leaders, the Lions whipped the Baptists by an 18-3 count.

Ohio Open Tourney Heads Down Stretch

DAYTON, O. (AP)—One of the tightest tussles in the tournament's history was in prospect today as 67 of the state's classic club-swingers headed down the 36-hole home stretch for the Ohio Open golf championship.

Veteran Frank Gelhot, 44-year-old Cincinnati Cloverbrook pro, was out front with 140 strokes, two under par, for a pair of 18-hole jaunts over Miami Valley Golf Club's sun-baked 6663-yard par 71 course.

Gelhot manufactured a pair of steady 70's to take the lead, but three hot shots were breathing down his neck from a stroke back, two others were even with par at 142, and three others had 143.

A host of talent was wrapped up at 144, including the two low amateurs, Daytonians J. F. Cleary and 19-year-old public linkster Pat Schwab.

The field was whittled down to 67 in the first two medal play rounds, and 26 amateurs were among the survivors—the best showing the simon pures have made in some time.

Herman Lang, 38-year-old Highland Meadows pro from Sylvania, came up with a 68 to click into the second spot tie at 141. Anchored with him there are Harold Padlock, new professional who terminated his Army career last Friday and who won the Ohio Amateur title on this same course in 1948, and Don White, 29-year-old assistant at the Toledo Heather Downs Club. Padlock is 31.

Women's Team Breaks Record

Russia Leads U. S. Team, 514 1/4-440

HELSINKI (AP)—Continuing the record-a-day (or better) pace of the 1952 Olympic swimming competition, the United States women's 400 meter relay team shattered the Olympic record in winning its trial heat today.

The American quartet of Evelyn Kawamoto of Hawaii and Jacqueline Lavine, Marilee Stepan and Joan Alderson, all of Chicago, was timed in 4:28.1 in beating Holland in its heat. This broke the Olympic mark of 4:29.2 set by another American team in the 1948 Olympics at London and was more than four seconds faster than Hungary's time in winning the other qualifying heat.

Eight teams qualified for the final Friday.

Three United States men swimmers had little trouble qualifying for the second round of the men's 100 meter backstroke and, in rather unexpected performances, the American water polo team won its first game of the semifinal round competition. American fencers marked up a decisive victory in a semifinal competition in the team sabre event.

Argentina's basketball team, regarded as the most serious threat to the U. S., suffered its first defeat of the tournament.

Yoshinobu Oyakawa of Honolulu and Ohio State University turned in the best time in the men's backstroke swim, one minute and six seconds. Jack Taylor of Akron, Ohio, another Ohio State swimmer, also won his heat but Allen Stack of Hingham, Mass., and Yale, finished second.

America's hopes in the women's springboard diving competition received a setback when an international jury over-ruled the judges who granted Mrs. Zoe Ann Olsen Jensen a second chance to perform one dive after she had complained the mechanism controlling the board had not functioned properly.

That reduced her total by nine points and put her in eighth place among the qualifiers for this afternoon's free diving competition.

Mrs. Patricia McCormick of Long Beach, Calif., leads the divers.

The American water polo team from El Segundo, Calif., which reached the semifinal eight-team bracket with difficulty, surprised Belgium, 4 to 2. The sabre fencers handed Poland a 10 to 6 setback.

The big doings for the Americans came this afternoon when the basketball team meets Brazil in its last game of the semifinal round; the boxers get back into action in the second round and three star swimmers go after the gold medal and a possible new record in the final of the 400 meter freestyle.

The United States so far has won all three of the men's swimming and diving events.

The Russians added 12 points to their overall team total yesterday against 15 for America leaving them 74 1/2 points ahead of the second place United States. The overall totals are 514 1/4 to 440.

Pulls In Sailfish

N. W. Kelly of 2124 E. State St., hooked a 19-pound sailfish recently while fishing a few miles off the shore of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., in the Atlantic Ocean. Kelly also bagged a small barracuda while he and his family visited Mrs. C. A. Irey, a former Salem resident. Kelly and his catches are shown above.

Tests Show Fish Plentiful Here

Guilford Lake, Beaver Creek Well Stocked

You county fishermen who claim there are no fish in this area had better toss that line back into Guilford Lake or Beaver Creek.

Proof that there are plenty of fish of all kind and sizes in the two places was received this week when Rep. Clarence L. Wetzel received a copy of test netting results conducted last May by the Wildlife Division of the State Department of Natural Resources.

A total of 973 fish were caught at Guilford in the five-day test conducted there, May 13-17. Of this amount, 541 were bluegill and 226 black crappie.

A total of 96 hours was reported on the project with an average of 10.1 fish caught per hour. The largest fish caught were Golden Mullet with an average length of 16 1/2-inches while the smallest were warmouth with an average of 4-inches in length.

Other varieties caught in the test were largemouth bass, gold shiner, white bass, perch, carp, white crappie, common sucker, brown bullhead, yellow bullhead, gizzard shad and pumpkinseed sunfish.

Test were conducted at the same time on the Middle, North and West forks of Beaver Creek over an area of 540 square miles. 210 fish were caught for an average of 0.7 fish per hour. A total of 288 hours were spent on the Beaver Creek test.

Rock Bass were the most prevalent with 92 reported followed by creek chubs, 36.

Other species found in Beaver Creek were shovel head, common sucker, hog sucker, gold mullet, large mouth bass, brown bullhead, yellow bullhead, pumpkinseed sunfish and bluegill.

Daniel C. Armbruster, fish management supervisor, reports another test will be conducted next spring in Beaver Creek.

Saxton 7-5 Favorite In Bout Tonight

CHICAGO (AP)—Undeclared Johnny Saxton, New York left hook specialist, rules a 7-5 favorite over Virgil Akins of St. Louis, No. 3 lightweight contender, in their 10 round match tonight at Chicago Stadium.

Saxton, outweighting Akins 146 to 141, will be aiming for his 31st straight victory in a bid for a crack at Kid Gavilan's welterweight crown or at least a scrap with such top-rated contenders as Chuck Davey and Gil Turner.

The bout will be televised nationally starting at 9 p. m. EST.

Fife Pitches Three-Hit Ball

Salem Tool, K of C Win Class A Tilts

Leetonia, winners of 11 straight games without a defeat, dropped their initial contest of the year last night when Sears, behind the three-hit pitching of Don Fife rapped out ten bingles and took an 8-4 decision.

After both teams went scoreless in the initial frame, Sears came up with five big runs in the second inning when they knocked out four singles, got a walk and had a batter hit.

Leetonia, however, scored three markers in their half of the inning to make the score, 5-3. Sears added another run in the next inning and two more in the sixth frame while Leetonia came through with a run in the seventh frame.

Fife scattered the Leetonia hits well as he gave up one in the second, that being a double which scored two of their three runs that inning, one in the third and the last in the seventh.

Jack Altomare, Leetonia hurler, yielded ten hits, three of them to George Ehrhart, Sears' leadoff batter.

Many Things Cause Radar Saucer Sights

WASHINGTON (AP)—Air Force experts say there's nothing to be excited about when radar picks up unidentified objects, or flying saucers. Radar, they say, is a tricky gadget.

Called to Washington in the wake of a flurry of excitement following the radar-spotting of scores of flying saucers in the past 10 days, specialists in the field said:

It is not unusual for radar to pick up rain squalls, birds, water spouts, and even surf spray.

Warm air over cool air can deflect radar waves and cause false responses.

At Wright-Patterson field, Dayton, Ohio, objects seen on radar circled high "in such a manner that we became concerned." Aircraft sent up to investigate found that the radar sightings were a kind of ice formation in the sky.

But this was about the trickiest of all:

At one base, the airborne radar of a night fighter sent up to investigate a suspicious "blip" locked into a definite sighting. The pilot followed the screen image until he suddenly discovered it was leading him into the ground.

He swerved upward just in time to avoid crashing, then flew back to his starting point and followed the same radar sighting two more times. Both times it led him earthward.

The conclusion: a radar wave somehow bent groundward and rebounded from an object on solid earth.

of a newly-developed telescopic camera which can photograph a 150-degree area of sky on one plate.

Some of the unidentified objects show up distinctly on radar sets. Early Tuesday, for example, the Civil Aeronautics Administration at Washington National Airport reported strange blips on its radar screen—dots which normally would represent airplanes moving through the sky—for a pre-daybreak period of almost five hours.

Other radar units in the area failed to pick up the objects, however. No visual sightings were reported.

The two generals added that the hot weather of recent weeks well might be related to the current outbreak of saucer reports.

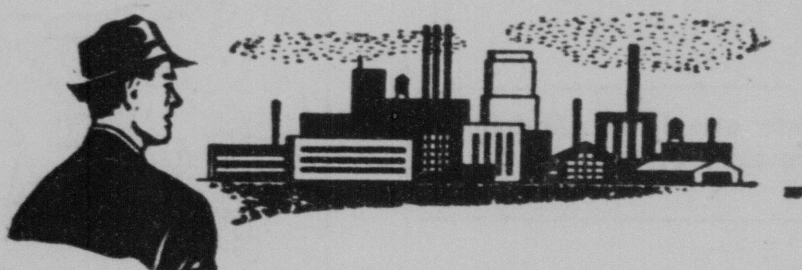

They said that a temperature inversion—a layer of warm air over cool air—sometimes may be sufficient to deflect radar waves and cause a false response on a radar set.

Temperature inversions can occur in perfectly clear skies. Samford said such an inversion was present in the Washington area early last Sunday, when up to a dozen unidentified objects appeared on radar screens both at Washington National Airport and nearby Andrews Air Base.

And radar itself is not perfect, officials said. It can be "tricked."

ROGERS—Mrs. Lola B. Green, 59, a well-known resident of this vicinity, died at 12:10 p. m. Tuesday at the Salem City Hospital where she had been taken after suffering a heart attack a few hours before.

Born March 11, 1893, in Signal, she was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles K. Dickey. She was married in 1913 to Charles S. Green, who survives at the home.

She was a member of the Rogers Methodist Church, Anna Eckley Eastern Star Chapter, Ladies of the G.A.R., Rogers Pythian Sisters, Unity Grange, Navy Mothers Club and the Signal Community Club and chairman of the Red Cross here.

Also surviving are a son, Arnold C. of Rogers; a brother, Ralph of Signal; a sister, Mrs. Wilma McMillan of Rogers; and two grandchildren.

Funeral service will be held at 2:30 p. m. Friday at the Rogers Methodist Church, with Rev. N. S. Scott of New Athens, her former pastor, and Rev. Earl Brooks, pastor of the Methodist Church, officiating. The body will lie in East Carmel Cemetery near Rogers.

Ohio GOP Works On 1952 Platform

COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—Ohio Republicans, armed with suggestions from farm, school, labor, industry and racial groups, today worked out final details of their 1952 state platform.

They set a deadline of 5 p. m. (EST) today for the final draft. It will be presented for approval Thursday to the GOP state convention.

It is expected to contain, among other things, some sort of plank on fair employment practices, urged at a public hearing Tuesday by representatives of racial and labor groups.

A source close to the Resolutions Committee which met in executive session to draw up the platform said it probably would call for an educational or voluntary fair employment practices law rather than a compulsory one.

Among those testifying at Tuesday's public hearing were representatives of farm groups, the Ohio CIO, Ohio Education Association, National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, the Columbus FEPC Committee, and the Ohio Chamber of Commerce.

Peace Treaty Given Big German Boost

KARLSRUHE, Germany (AP)—West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer won a court victory today in his fight for ratification of his country's alliance with the West but the way was left open for more legal battles that could delay German Rearmament.

The Constitutional Court ruled it could not consider Socialist challenges of the peace contract with the Allies and the European army agreement until the pacts had been enacted into law by the West German Parliament.

The two treaties, ending most occupation controls and obligating West Germany to raise 500,000 troops for the proposed European army, come up for final vote after the lower house of Parliament, the Bundestag, reconvenes in September.

The court decision was a big boost toward ratification, since the tribunal refused to rule on Socialist contentions that the pacts could be approved only after national elections chose a new Parliament and after a constitutional amendment authorizing rearmament.

Defense To Require Double Steel Share

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Pentagon expects defense production to take double its normal share of the nation's steel output during the next six months.

An official handling military production problems said this will necessarily mean less steel, temporarily, for civilian use, and a return in part to the system of wartime priorities for military production.

He said the nation lost 20 million tons of steel output during the 34 days of recent strike.

In order to see that the military gets first crack at available steel, the Defense Department has assigned 30 special officers to stay at the mills.

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Louisiana Democrats re-nominated four U. S. representatives while colorful Cajun campaigner Dudley J. LeBlanc and Rep. Edwin E. Willis headed for an eyelash finish.

In a rain-hindered Democratic primary yesterday, unofficial returns showed these four winners:

U. S. Reps. F. Edward Hebert and Hale Boggs, both of New Orleans; Overton Brooks of Shreveport and Otto Passman of Monroe.

LeBlanc at 57 is a veteran Southwest Louisiana political leader who has made three unsuccessful races for governor. Wide publicity and financial fortune came to him through his promotion of a patent medicine (Hadacol). He later sold the business.

Willis is 47 and seeking his third term in Congress.

With 239 of the Third Congressional District's 253 precincts reported, LeBlanc had 23,400 votes and Willis had 23,291 votes.

Rep. James Morrison of Hammond of the Sixth District was unopposed for nomination.

Rep. Henry Lacade did not seek re-election from the Seventh District and Rep. A. Leonard Allen did not seek re-election from the Eighth.

Runoffs were indicated in both districts.
